

YOUNG SCIENTISTS FORUM

National Science & Technology Commission

Ministry of Technology & Research

INVITATION FOR NEW MEMBERS

* The Young Scientists Forum has been established to give the younger scientists an opportunity to voice their opinion on S & T issues both within and outside their respective institutes and thereby actively participate in the decision-making processes. In addition, the forum is set up to develop and strengthen the skills of younger scientists.

* Eligibility:

- Commitment towards assisting the development of Science and Technology and willing to dedicate their services and knowledge towards its enhancement,
- Below 45 years of age, with a basic degree or equivalent qualification in Natural, Medical, Applied or Social Sciences including Engineering and Agriculture and
- Permanently employed at Research and Development (R&D) institutions, Universities and any other public or private sector institutions related to Science and Technology (S&T).
- Those who work on contract basis, involved in R&D work will be evaluated case-by-case basis.

* The application when reached NASTEC will be forwarded to the YSF Steering Committee to obtain recommendation for approval by NASTEC

* When you reach the age of 45 years, if you have postgraduate qualifications, you are eligible to join the Senior Scientists Forum (SSF).

The complete membership application should be submitted with the Curriculum Vitae by registered post to Director NASTEC.
